David, we believe some of the changes are substantive and need to think them through. In the meantime, we'd like to connect with you and Jason on status of the items covered in our 8/19 correspondence—when today are you both available to speak?

Thanks,
JM

Jessica,

Thank you. Attached is a clean and redline of the proposed Clawback Agreement. Please note, although there is “red” at the beginning, those changes are only to streamline and ensure that the Clawback Agreement refers to and incorporates the entirety of the terms of the TRO and the Receiver Order (both defined in same) without quoting only certain parts of them.

Otherwise, we did not change anything substantive concerning the means, mechanisms, timing, etc. that you proposed. I also apologize for the formatting.

Let us know if you have any additional changes.

Thanks,
-Dave

CAUTION: External sender. Verify before continuing.

Jason and David,

We need to schedule time to speak with you tomorrow morning, as Scott mentioned today, to discuss the items in our Saturday correspondence—specifically including information about websites, domain hosting, parties providing services, and the like. What times work for you tomorrow morning? In addition, we are continuing to work to obtain DLI client files from Dentons and other firms—please sign and return the clawback agreement as soon as possible.

Thanks,
JM
